What is Dirty Soda?

Dirty soda, which is a flavoured sparkling beverage made traditionally with cola, coconut syrup, lime juice, and topped with a non-dairy creamer, traces its roots back to Utah.
Members of the LDS Church (Mormons) are prohibited from drinking hot caffeinated drinks, but in 2012, it was clarified that cold caffeinated beverages were fair game.

Swig, which opened its first location in Utah in 2010, bills itself as the "home of the dirty soda," but it wasn't until the last year that dirty soda really took off nationwide. That's thanks to social media, and in particular, a post by pop star Olivia Rodrigo holding a dirty soda from Swig. The trend went viral.

Many consumers and operators now put unique spins on the soda and cream beverages, experimenting with different flavoured syrup and soda combinations.

While the specific combination of ingredients in dirty soda make it unique, the concept of combining soda and dairy, isn't actually new: think root beer floats and cream sodas. There's also Italian cream soda (which features flavoured syrup, cream, and sparkling water) and French soda, which uses half-and-half (making them both similar to dirty soda).

Leverage the hype to add a spin on your beverage menu!

Dirty soda capitalizes on the following trends:

- ✓ Nostalgia
- ✓ Functional / energy boosted
- ✓ Bright colour, bold flavour
- ✓ Mocktail movement
- ✓ Gen Z focus
- ✓ Signature innovation

Tips & Tricks

From the Monin Beverage Innovation Team

- Think about a dirty soda as any sparkling beverage with something creamy added to it – coffee creamers & sweetened coconut milk are recommended.
- Darker sodas (Coke/Dr Pepper/Pepsi) mix best with coffee creamers and indulgent syrups.
- Citrus sodas (Sprite/Starry/7up/Mtn Dew) mix best with sweetened coconut milk and fruit syrups.
- Half & half and milk are not recommended as curdling could happen due to the acidic nature of the soda.
- Have fun with it! Less structure is better with this drink category. Try mixing and matching any of the below!

Bases	Dairy	Monin Syrup Flavors
Coke / Pepsi	International Delight Sweet & Creamy	Strawberry
Dr. Pepper	Coffee Mate Coconut Creamer	Pineapple
Sprite / Starry / 7up	Sweetened Coconut Milk	Coconut
Mtn Dew	Non-Dairy Creamers	Cherry
Ginger Ale		Peach
Fanta / Sunkist / Crush		Watermelon
Soda Water		Vanilla
